

552 N. Carpenter, will be given hearing today on charge made by the girl.

Arthur Kill, delivery wagon driver, beaten and robbed by two men yesterday, who then drove off in his wagon. It was found in Lincoln Park.

Frank A. Warde, automobile salesman, reported to be husband of Jeannette Wallace when latter was arrested for stealing handbag, has been sued for divorce by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Warde, who lives at Dolton with her two children.

President Peter Bartzen of the county board is the latest daffydilligent. He says: "If Bartzen carried a hod, what has Ballard Dunn? Whoops! There's a ring around the county building."

Emil Paulet discovered in ice box in grocery at 6514 S. Ashland early today and arrested. Police charge he planned to set fire to place to collect insurance. He was formerly owner of the store.

Henry Paul arrested, alleged to have picked woman's handbag at Wabash ave. and Congress street. Captured after chase.

Fifty-four guards at county jail will petition sheriff for raise in pay. Now get $91.66 per month. Want from $115 to $125.

T. R. Hadley, 4539 W. Monroe, probably fatally injured when struck by Madison street car.

While awaiting trial in jail on charge of operating "con" game, Charles Reiss induced fellow prisoner to give him $50, for which Reiss was to "square" things, claiming he had brother in state's attorney's office. Other man was released; and complained.

Already girls who propose, under their leap year right, are having difficulty in getting on the first page.

Judge Sabath yesterday saved Mrs. Charles Marshall, too ill to work, from provisionless home in rear of 6523 May street. Mrs. William Leonard, owner of the place, threatened to make her move for non-payment of rent. Judge chipped in $5 and jury $12 more.

Speaking of leap year proposals, remember, a pretty girl's face is her fortune; a homely girl's face is her chaperon. But who'll admit the chaperonage?

Are there any ticket scalpers here? Well, the receiver for the H. N. Waterfall Co. told Judge Landis he had cleared $300 on one day's sales.

Max Finkelstein, 51, who sang sections of "Il Trovatore" over the phone to Mayor Harrison, declared insane. Jury of labor leaders passed on his case in insane court and ordered his detention after hearing him warble.

Charles B. Morrison appointed master in chancery for U. S. district court.

HIS REMAINS

Stranger: "Do you know where Mr. Brown lives in this street?"

Mrs. Brown: "Mr. Brown's dead, sir, but I'm his remains."